0.1 To Do

This is a preliminary directory and is incomplete. It serves as a proof of concept that we can generate the entire directory with a single invocation of a command that will be later invoked through the Web site.

As this is a work in progress we are focusing on the overall concept while working on improving each section. We list here the issues that we work on later. We add also suggestions for a solution or a potential cause for the originating problem.

- make the table longer on each page so we use the entire page. Issue: it may be that the `textheight` is not properly set in relationship to the `pagelayout`. Gossens book will have a chapter of doing an alternate page layout. Gregor did define it in `edspage.sty`.
- some entries have not a phone number, but a contact name. These entries show up wrong in the table
- all advertisements should be in a figure without caption, so we can place them automatically.
- the `voffset` is too small
- make the `fontsize` of the physician table small
- in tables us `p{0.5\textwidth}` or `p{0.5\columnwidth}`, adjust the number before to use the fraction.
- Make it so the fire department name is emphasized (bold), and make it so the founded date (if any) is put to the right.

0.2 Preface

Emergency Services are vital to provide people with responses and care for their needs. Many individuals and organizations participate in this effort to save lives, to decrease morbidity and to ameliorate situations by prompt and proper care.

Purpose: The purpose of this Directory is to serve as a reference document for emergency service providers and related organizations. This should help the planning, implementation and communication among all these agencies.

2008 Edition: This sixteenth edition of the Directory, published by STEP, has been distributed to over 2000 organizations and individuals. It has become a recommended textbook for all EMS training in the two-county region. Copies may be obtained at Monroe Community College Bookstore, 1000 E. Henrietta Rd., Rochester, NY, 14623, 585-292-2505.

This edition can be found online at www.emergencyservicesdirectory.org. Organizations are encouraged to update their information online when changes occur or prior to printing the annual edition in February of each year.

0.3 Foreword to First Edition - 1993

The EMS Directory has had a long gestation. The concept paralleled the National Safety Councils Accident Facts published yearly. It was conceived as a single source for EMS information to be used by those involved in the system. In 1969, STEP's volunteer, Mrs. John H. (Dottie) Castle, Jr., began the task of assembling all ambulance and hospital information for the nine-county Genesee Region of New York State. She wrote letters and received the information to be assembled. However, STEP's first priority at that time became the exciting development of prehospital mobile critical care units for this area, similar to those that had recently been developed in New York City and Elmira, New York. Over the years other STEP priority projects were undertaken and completed. The most recent was the development of a paid medical director for the EMS system in Monroe County. The Directory project again surfaced in 1992 and the Board of Directors agreed to proceed with its development at this time. Section I lists the primary EMS components. Dr. Ann Shamaskin, Director of the Emergency Department at Genesee Hospital, suggested developing a list of the physicians primary hospital affiliations to which they preferred to admit and care for their patients. It was learned that several ambulance companies had developed their own lists. Dr. Robbin Dick at Rochester General Hospital Emergency Department was developing a similar list for use when patients required transfer to other hospitals. In 1992, he found that 110 patients at Rochester General Hospital required this type of transfer. It was a considerable cost of time and money to the health care system since emergency department evaluation at both hospitals and additional ambulance transports were required. An estimation of this experience suggests that 500 patients were transferred in the counties of Monroe and Livingston in 1992. If the cost of this double emergency department evaluation and interhospital ambulance transfer is estimated at $1,000 per patient, then there was approximately $500,000 spent in this effort. There is also a cost in duplicated time expenditure. This reduces the efficiency of emergency care. Section II lists physician hospital preference to reduce this duplication. It was felt that information about the resources found in Section III would be important to include in a directory so that different people and organizations who contribute to EMS could understand the other elements of the system to which they do not directly relate. This helps to prevent situations similar to the blind men who came upon an elephant and described it differently depending on which part of the animal they were touching. It is hoped that this Directory will help visualize the complex EMS system. Hopefully those who work within the system and those who have a more distant view will better understand how EMS works and thereby create ideas about how to improve it. The fourth section of this Directory is about the advanced life support protocols developed as the 1993 Standards of Care for the Monroe-Livingston EMS System. The Monroe-Livingston EMS Council has distributed about 600 copies emergencyservicesdirectory.org 6 of this Section to all people trained to this level of care and to others who need this information. It was therefore felt unnecessary to include it in all the copies of the Directory.

The final section of this EMS Directory contains a copy of the legal basis for the EMS system in New York State. Article 30 of the Public Health Law became a reality in 1976. The first revision of this law was enacted into law in 1992 by the state legislature after many years of deliberation by those interested in EMS. It has yet to be funded as of April, 1993. One purpose of this Directory is to serve as an educational tool for those in the EMS system and those in planning and government whose decisions impact the system. Another important aspect should be the financial analysis of the system. The various cost components should be summarized and updated yearly. In this manner we can begin to monitor the entire EMS system. We can analyze its complexities, see avenues for improvement, introduce changes and measure their results. If improvements take place, then the effort expended to develop this Directory will be rewarded. The future for this Directory should be a commitment to an annual update of information. The entire nine county area should be included. Similar regional directories should be developed and updated throughout the state and nation. When you or a member of your family needs emergency care, STEP hopes that it will be the best that any community can offer. This is the mission of STEP.

0.4 Foreword to the Sixteenth Edition - 2008

The name of the directory has been changed to reflect the broader scope of organizations registered. It is now the Emergency Services Directory and may be viewed at this website: www.EmergencyServicesDirectory.org. The Directory has become a reliable source of information to facilitate responses and emergency preparedness. Over 2000 free copies have been distributed to all the organizations and offices listed and to all area libraries, the facility managers of large public and private buildings, large companies, hotels, malls, clubs, museums, theaters, sports facilities, public and private school systems, colleges and the news media. Additional copies are available at the Monroe Community College Bookstore. Section I now includes email addresses and websites of organizations. Section II lists all physicians who admit patients to area hospitals. Section III contains many different resource organizations that support the emergency response system. Section IV includes protocols that are used in the region. All information was entered online by an assigned representative from each organization, an editor or a volunteer. We appreciate all the volunteer work done to bring you this 2008 Edition. David Beaton, Elsie Glendinning, Kathy Hunt, Hilton high school students and our administrator, Sarah Carlson, deserve special thanks for all their help. We hope the changes are beneficial for the improvement of emergency services in our region.

0.5 The History of STEP

STEP is a not-for-profit organization that has its roots in a group of physicians who volunteered to train ambulance personnel in 1963. Dr. Harold Warnock, Assistant Health Director for Monroe County, along with Dr. Henry Crawford, an orthopedic surgeon, Dr. David Kluge and Dr. John Morton, general surgeons, organized a Saturday First Aid teaching conference at the Rochester Fire Academy on Scottsville Road. The 75 attendees were very enthusiastic and the course was repeated the following Saturday for 75 more members of fire departments and a few of the newly organized independent ambulance corps. There followed each September a similar ambulance teaching day including one session in which an Army Field Hospital Unit was assembled at the Academy. Later the courses were transferred to Monroe Community College where vehicle evacuation was practiced in the parking lot. These courses led to an expanded teaching program under a new Trauma Committee of the Monroe County Medical Society. In 1967 STEP (Study of Trauma and Emergencies Project) developed as a project of the Genesee Valley Medical Foundation. It held a conference at the Rochester Academy of Medicine entitled: Rochester Forum on Emergency Health Services. This was partially funded by the Emergency Health Services Division of the U.S. Public Health Service and the proceedings were published. The ambulance training course held on September 6, 7 and 8, 1967, took place at the Manger Hotel as part of the Empire State First Aid and Rescue Association annual meeting. This was the first course in New York State to receive prior approval from the Department of Health under new ambulance regulations. It was also the first course that provided CPR training to ambulance personnel under the new guidelines of the American Red Cross and other organizations that had been proposed in the Journal of the American Medical Association. In 1970 the first triplicate ambulance record for patient information was developed by STEP under the direction of Dr. Martin Korn. These computerized forms were used in many EMS regions of the country including the entire state of Idaho. Modifications of this original form are now being used by all ambulances throughout the country. In New York State it is now called the "Patient Care Report," abbreviated as PCR. In 1972 STEP became incorporated as a not-for-profit organization. The acronym was changed to the Society for Total Emergency Programs as suggested by board member Dr. A. E. Hertzler Knox, Medical Director of the Hartford Insurance Company. For ten years (1967-1976) it ran international forums on EMS in Rochester, Chicago, St. Louis and Indianapolis. Affiliated councils developed, including the STEP Council of the Genesee Region, which became a not-for-profit organization in 1976. In 1969 the STEP Council of the Genesee Region organized a five year effort that led to the development of self-funded mobile coronary care units (MCCU) in Monroe County. Later, when trauma care was included they became known as Mobile Critical Care Units. In 1978, after the state and regional EMS Councils were formed, STEP turned over the responsibility of the MCCU system to the Monroe-Livingston Regional EMS Council. The fourth ambitious STEP project was the development of a regional EMS Center for training and resources. In 1980 STEP enlisted the support of all related EMS organizations in the area and was able to raise $100,000 to support the Center concept. The first location was in the Hollister Building of the Genesee Hospital campus, the former School of Nursing Building. Classrooms, an EMS library and all regional training equipment were housed there and administered by Empire 9, a federal EMS grant organization. When Empire 9 folded several years later, STEP negotiated with Monroe County and Monroe Community College to transfer the Center activities to the Monroe County Public Safety Training Center in Henrietta. EMS training is now centered in the Public Safety Training Facility on Scottsville Road. A fifth project, initiated in 1988, was the creation of the position of a paid physician director of the EMS system in Monroe County. Through persistence, graduate research projects at the University of Rochester, Syracuse University and Rochester Institute of Technology and discussions at county budget hearings, the Monroe County Legislature in 1991 created and funded the position of medical director. The new county legislature administration in 1992 maintained its commitment to EMS. In July 1992 Dr. Dean Wolanyk was selected to become Monroe County's first EMS Medical Director. The sixth major project of STEP was the development in 1993 of an annual EMS Directory which listed basic information about all components of EMS in a two-county area. It serves as a reference document for EMS providers and related organizations. The Directory helps the emergency services community understand itself, especially as the people and organizations in the system change with time. A website, developed with teams of senior students in the Department of Software Engineering at Rochester Institute of Technology, now includes information about many counties in New York State. Since more public health and public safety organizations have registered online, the name has been modified to be more inclusive. It is now called the Emergency Services Directory. The website allows organizations to input their own information, keeping it current and accessible to a wider audience. Educational programs have always played an important part in STEP activities. These have included EMT courses for ambulance personnel and for medical students, CPR courses for physicians and dentists, ten annual International EMS Forums and nine annual EMS Management Forums. In 1995 the current annual series of STEP EMS Conferences began. This year's Conference is scheduled for April 2008. The History committee, under the direction of Elsie Glendenning, continues to work with EMS organizations in the region to organize and collect historically significant material. These are catalogued and stored at the climate-controlled ViaHealth Archives Consortium. Some of the artifacts were on display at the NYS

Museum in Albany, NY, and some are in the permanent exhibit at the Public Safety Training Facility in Rochester, NY. These efforts over the past 45 years have assisted emergency care improvements in a cooperative and very cost-effective manner. We are pleased with the results but continue to press ahead!

0.9 STEP Activities

The next STEP EMS Conference will be on Friday and Saturday, April 11 and 12, 2008, at the RIT Inn & Conference Center. The Conference includes plenary sessions, workshops, exhibits, meals and the Friday evening Awards Banquet. STEP welcomes EMS archival items and historical papers for preservation. The collection is housed in climate-controlled facilities at the

ViaHealth Archives Consortium, 333 Humboldt St., Rochester., NY 14610. Contact Elsie Glendenning at www.stepcouncil.org

STEP invites emergency services and related organizations in other counties and states to register and enter their information in the Emergency Services Directory at www.EmergencyServicesDirectory.org For information and help, contact us at this website.
